Ocean's 8

Five years, eight months, 12 days and counting – that's how long Debbie Ocean has been devising the biggest heist of her life. She knows what it's going to take – a team of the best people in the field, starting with her partner-in-crime Lou Miller. Together, they recruit a crew of specialists, including jeweler Amita, street con Constance, suburban mom Tammy, hacker Nine Ball, and fashion designer Rose. Their target – a necklace that's worth more than $150 million.

Captain Marvel

Captain Marvel is an extraterrestrial Kree warrior who finds herself caught in the middle of an intergalactic battle between her people and the Skrulls. Living on Earth in 1995, she keeps having recurring memories of another life as U.S. Air Force pilot Carol Danvers. With help from Nick Fury, Captain Marvel tries to uncover the secrets of her past while harnessing her special superpowers to end the war with the evil Skrulls.

BlacKkKlansmen

From visionary filmmaker Spike Lee comes the incredible true story of an American hero. It's the early 1970s, and Ron Stallworth is the first African-American detective to serve in the Colorado Springs Police Department. Determined to make a name for himself, Stallworth bravely sets out on a dangerous mission: infiltrate and expose the Ku Klux Klan.

Dumplin'

The plus-size, teenage daughter of a former beauty queen signs up for her mom's pageant as a protest that escalates when other contestants follow in her footsteps, revolutionizing the pageant and their small Texas town.

TV Shows of 2019

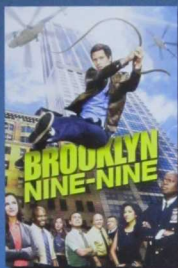

Grey's Anatomy

The doctors of Grey Sloan Memorial Hospital deal with life-or-death consequences on a daily basis – it's in one another that they find comfort, friendship and, at times, more than friendship. Together they're discovering that neither medicine nor relationships can be defined in black and white. Real life only comes in shades of grey.

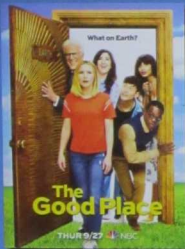

Brooklyn Nine-Nine

Jake Peralta, an immature, but talented N.Y.P.D. detective in Brooklyn's 99th Precinct, comes into immediate conflict with his new commanding officer, the serious and stern Captain Ray Holt.

The Good Place

The Good Place is a town where those who have been good throughout their lives go once they have passed away. When Eleanor arrives at the Good Place, she realizes she has been mistaken for someone else, and seeks help from a new friend to earn her spot in the Good Place.

The 100

Set ninety-seven years after a nuclear war has destroyed civilization, when a spaceship housing humanity's lone survivors sends one hundred juvenile delinquents back to Earth, in hopes of possibly re-populating the planet.

Books of 2019

The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas

Starr Carter is constantly switching between two worlds – the poor, mostly black neighborhood where she lives and the wealthy, mostly white prep school that she attends. The uneasy balance between these worlds is soon shattered when she witnesses the fatal shooting of her childhood best friend at the hands of a police officer. Facing pressure from all sides of the community, Starr must find her voice and decide to stand up for what's right.

Code of Honor by Alan Gratz

When Iranian-American Kamran Smith learns that his big brother, Darius, has been labelled a terrorist, he sets out to piece together the codes and clues that will save his brother's life and his country from a deadly terrorist attack.

Winger by Andrew Smith

A teen at boarding school grapples with life, love, and rugby in a heartbreakingly funny novel. Ryan Dean West is a fourteen-year-old junior at a boarding school for rich kids. He's living in Opportunity Hall, the dorm for troublemakers, and rooming with the biggest bully on the rugby team.

"I had a great time being with my friends. Everyone was having the time of their lives dancing to great music."

EVENTS

BACK TO SCHOOL &

1. STUCO IN! The members of student council circled up and yelled "StuCo in" to celebrate the start of the new year. "I'm super excited for this year because of all the great people I get to work with and the great ideas that we're trying to put in place. I hope things will go well and that we can make this a great year for the school," Student Council President Meghan Haug (12) said. "The opportunity given by clubs at our school is a good way to get students involved and see their true potential," Vice President Rachel Walthall (12) said. Photo by Mathew Signature

VOICES OF THE ASSEMBLY

Meghan Haug (12)
"I love the beginning of the year assembly when we get to show our video because it shows all the hard work that we do. I also loved that I get to speak in front of the school and have them listen to my ideas." Haug said. Photo by Mathew Signature

DANCE FOR A DIFFERENCE

SAVE THE SEA TURTLES. 2019's Dance for a difference raised money for the Sea Turtle Conservancy. The Sea Turtle Conservancy is the oldest and most accomplished sea turtle organization in the world! STC is a not-for-profit organization based in Gainesville, Florida. STC's research and conservation initiatives have been instrumental in saving the Caribbean green turtle from immediate extinction, as well as raising awareness and protection for sea turtles across the globe with nearly 60 years of experience in national and international sea turtle conservation, research and educational endeavors. The organization began its work in Costa Rica, but has expanded its research and conservation efforts throughout Central America and the Wider Caribbean. Dance for a Difference raised $328.86 this year.

"I'm so happy I got to play softball for my high school team and travel team. Even though we had to overcome some hardships, we still managed to have fun, make new friends, and grow to be better people. Playing softball is a lot more than just the love for the game, and I'm excited to continue my career in college," Darrow said.

"I was really reluctant to join softball. It took Jay four years to get me to agree to come to a practice, and when I did there was no backing out. Softball was one of my best high school experiences because of my team and coach.

I'm glad I joined, but I am definitely not playing in college," Trieu said.

4. Win the Day! Coach Long high fives the softball team after a great play when asked his favorite part of coaching softball Long responded, "Holy Heck! Seeing Ace every day!" Photo by Chloe Burroughs

7. Perfect Pitch: Shekinah Reed warms up before the game begins. "The first year's rookies didn't seem like rookies at all. They were amazing and we had a fantastic season," Reed said.

We won and scored in many games, which I didn't get to experience during my sophomore and junior year. Merging with University City was a lot of fun because they are really talented players and complete our team in a sense. It has been an amazing opportunity to play with them this year and get to know these girls. I'm glad I got to enjoy my senior year of field hockey," Vijayalingam said. Photo by Mathew Signature.

WOMENS EMPOWEMENT

1. SHE IS HISTORY IN THE MAKING. Zoe Arrindell (10) is the first woman from Bearwood's Women's Wrestling team to qualify for state. She also had the fastest pin time of sixteen seconds.

What made you join wrestling?

"I joined wrestling initially because I needed another sport to play and I was encouraged by Coach Hughes and Coach Abshier. Wrestling also was a way to test and build my endurance and strength."

Why do you think it's important for girls to get involved with sports?

"I think it's important that young girls get involved with more physical sports because more physical sports help redefine one's standards for themselves, they challenge you emotionally and physically, they help build character, and overall they build one's focus while providing them with a form of stress relief."

Did you think you were going to go as far as you did?

"I never knew what would happen with wrestling and I still don't. I merely worked and continue to work with the goal of getting better and leaving everything on the mat."

After you stop wrestling, what do you think you'll take away from the experience?

"After I complete my high school wrestling career, I'll take with me all the good memories, happy times, techniques and lessons I've learned, as well as the positive relationships." Photo by Hannah Joseph.

Some of the Friends of Rachel Club including Amelia Ayotte (10), Madhumathi Vijayalingam (12), Lindsey Trieu (12), Nirmita Vijayalingam (9), and Ekaterina Fedotova (10) make care packages for the homeless. "I think that it is important for everyone to give back, especially young girls because they can be spiteful toward one another, and it's a good reminder for them to work together." Friends of Rachel adviser, Mrs. Cobb, said. Photo by Lydia Smith.

5. BEHIND EVERY STRONG WOMAN, IS HERSELF.

Senior Lindsey Trieu talks about her work ethic and her ROTC scholarship. "I applied for the Reserve Officers Training Corps Scholarship because I wanted to join the military and I didn't want to pay for college. So this scholarship is really the best of both worlds, it pays for my full tuition for any school I choose to go to, and most colleges offer to pay extra costs (room and boarding etc) as an incentive. Scholarship winners basically go to college for free and graduate as a 2nd lieutenant in the military. As for my work ethic, I didn't necessarily work harder right before I applied for the scholarship. I think I have always had a good work ethic and it paid off when I earned this scholarship," Trieu said. Photo by Robyn Haug.

6. WHO RUNS THE WORLD: MOMS.

Senior Nya Jordan talks about what's it like to be a mother in high school and what she's learned from it all.

What have you learned since becoming a mother?

"Responsibility, time management and making sacrifices is what I have learned the most."

If you had to give young girls a piece of advice what would it be?

"Make sure that you don't go off on what other people think or say, and never base your situation off of others."

What has been your favorite part about being a mom?

"Watching him grow and learning new things and seeing how observant he has gotten."

9. ALL THEY DO IS WIN.

Seniors Meghan Haug and Madhumathi Vijayalingam are all smiles as they show off the gold they won during a debate tournament. Madhu talks about what it is like to be a woman of color in debate. "While some may think of their gender or race as a disadvantage, I like to think of them as all the more reason why I should excel and work hard. Debate has given me the platform to be confident and take pride in my cultural identity by educating others. Even after high school, I hope to continue to empower others and spread diversity awareness," Vijayalingam said. Photo by Robyn Haug.

ACADEMICS

A photograph of a young woman with long, wavy blonde hair, wearing a dark grey sweatshirt and a silver watch, sitting at a desk in a cluttered classroom. She is focused on drawing a large, detailed sketch of a face on a piece of paper. On the desk, there is a small bottle of Charca brand paint, a pencil, and other papers. The background is filled with stacks of boxes and papers, suggesting a busy, creative environment.

GETTING A HEAD START

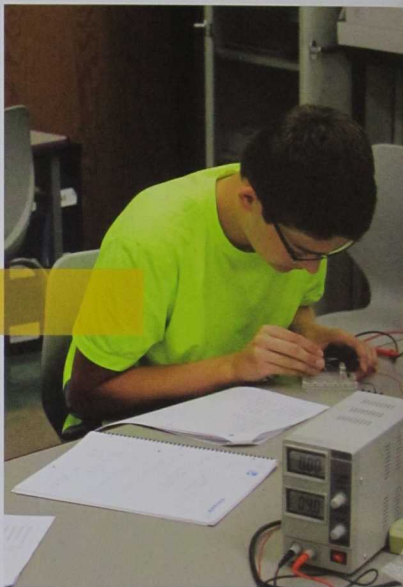

Deciding whether or not to participate in college level courses during your high school career can be a big decision with many factors you have to take into account. Two friends, Benjamin Sytar (12) and Louis Song (12) explain why they chose to take Western Civ their senior year of high school. "My decision to take a college history course came from my desire to prepare for college and engage in a history course that would challenge me. Coach Long is an amazing teacher who is very engaging!" Sytar said. "I chose to take a college level history course because Coach Long is awesome and history is awesome," Song said. While Coach Long sets up his class as a lecture-style similar to college level classes, he gives his students the opportunity to dive deeper into the topics they are learning through discussion. Photo by Matthew Segura.

TOPIC—Traffic

"Beep! Beep! Beep!" The sounds of traffic and immature teenagers that don't know how to drive. This is the best part of the day. Traffic is bound to happen, everyone is trying to leave work to stay true to their New Year's Resolutions at the gym, or going to pick up dinner at their local grocery store. Opposers of traffic believe that if everyone was not on the exact same road at the same time, the problem will be solved. Every weekday, from 4 in the afternoon until around 6, the roads are crazy packed with vehicles. What comes with the loads of cars is the traffic and the reckless moving between lanes for absolutely no reason. This leads to accidents. Most car accidents happen during rush hour, causing more stop-and-go traffic. With this problem comes a solution. There are many backroads in the surrounding areas that will get vehicles to their destinations avoiding all of the cars.

TOPIC—Grammys

At this year's Grammy's, Cardi B took home multiple awards but most notably, Album of the Year. Her album Invasion of Privacy won against Pusha T's Daytona, Mac Miller's Swimming, Nipsey Hussle's Victory Lap, and Travis Scott's Astroworld. IOP won based off of its radio plays and not actual musical substance. Mac Miller, who died of a drug overdose in 2018, released his project on August 3. It reached critical acclaim with many reviews. It also showed his growth as an artist and as a person months after his public breakup with Ariana Grande which had a serious effect on him. Astroworld was a project that was a two year odyssey for Travis Scott after releasing Birds in the Trap Sing McKnight, which was not received as well as anticipated by fans. Astroworld highlights Travis Scott's different musical talents from rapping, singing, and producing. Daytona came from Pusha T who hadn't released a solo album since 2015. The album is centered around his time as a drug dealer and different points in his fame from Clipse to the present. The project was produced by Kanye West and came from the highly touted Wyoming Sessions which spawned albums like ye and Kids See Ghosts. Cardi B's album did not have nearly the same amount of time put into any of these albums. The lyrics are based purely for entertainment and no real substance. The only thing placing her album over the other's is the time it spent on the charts and radio.

TOPIC— Lunch

Starting last year, the school administration imposed a rule about not allowing students (upperclassmen only) to exit campus for lunches anymore. There was an uproar of opposition from most students in Brentwood High School, yet administration passed it, not caring about the emotional distress of students. They claimed that this rule was because of all the recent terror attacks on schools in America and because of the school's responsibility when students leave campus. Unfortunately, the school forgot to tackle one issue when starting this rule. They forgot to take into account the number of students that would now be eating their lunches from the cafeteria. Now, daily, the cafeteria runs out of food before the end of lunch is over. This causes many students to continue their days without having proper nutrition. This causes tiredness and less motivated students to complete their fourth-period classes and after school extracurriculars. Many times students forget to eat breakfast in the mornings, so when their lunch supply is cut short, all that is available are sad, cold chicken patties on a bland bun and nothing else. This is not an acceptable way to treat students at Brentwood High School. Brentwood High School's lunch policy should have taken into account many factors other than just student safety, including health and nutrition, before implementing no more leaving campus for upperclassmen.

TOPIC— Web Filter

Okay, let's talk about the whole "web filter violations" that occur any day that you use your school chromebook. Before I continue, I will say that I do understand why this policy was in place, however I will be noting its many flaws. Let's start with the obvious. It hasn't happened to everybody, but for me I have been in a class in which the teacher posted a YouTube video on Google classroom, and of course, it's blocked. Now there is a way to get around this in which the teacher must call up to the technology office and request that the video be temporarily unblocked from the computers. This is only a minute detail of the whole blocking everything agenda. Educational sites are blocked, too, which can hinder one's research, or general knowledge of a subject in school. I would love to see

Brentwood get past the whole "everything is a distraction" attitude, because it's a very quasi-feasible mindset. Yes there are distractions, but the overall strictness of the web filters are too much. It's not just the YouTube videos that get blocked either. Certain PDFs, links, and videos (not stemming from YouTube) are seldom available. The true story is that all of the students at Brentwood know this information. The question is what is going to be done about it?

TOPIC— American Sexual Education

America's sexual education system is trash, beyond trash... a great big cluster of trash. More than half of American teens are sexually active before the age of 18, according to the National Center for Health and Statistics (NCHS). Even knowing that many teens are active in one way or another, schools still choose to have an abstinence only sex education. Preaching abstinence to a bunch of kids who are already sexually active does absolutely nothing. Many programs not only teach abstinence based material but viciously shame kids for being active. The rate of STIs in young people and teen pregnancy has been on a steady rise. Without proper sex ed these numbers will keep rising affecting us and generations after. Along with all this we continue to ignore the huge injustice to LGBTQ+ students who get little to no education on safety, protection and gender related topics. This lack of education causes ignorance and contributes to homophobia and transphobia. As a country we need to enforce better sexual education, with detailed units on STIs, contraception, LGBTQ+ topics, consent and general safety.

The Star of the Show

Team 7525 The Nerdy Birds' robot this year featured numerous firsts for the team. The robot had a full autonomous capable of landing, sampling, claiming, and parking netting the robot a total of 80 points in autonomous. The arm on the robot allowed the team to pick up blocks and balls and place them into the lander, featured in the bottom photo, and the lift on the back of the robot allowed the team to hang up in the end game.

The robot was able to score consistently 180 points in a round, and held the conference record for most points scored in a round multiple times, consistently breaking its own record setting scores. The Nerdy Birds would finish as division finalists at the State Championship placing 5th overall in their division, winning 4/5 of their preliminary matches, advancing through semifinals and into finals.

THE ROBOT

The Asteroids' 2018-19 Robot nicknamed Big Boi went through 2 design phases. The first was used at the Desmet and Notre Dame Meets, and the second, pictured below, was meant to be used at the Selvidge Middle School Qualifier. Though the qualifier was canceled due to weather, the team advanced through a lottery system and their clamshell design was used at the State Championship where it would win against robotics heavy weights including Elementary my Dear Botson and Camdenton Laser.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

1. Café en México! Mrs. Haug and the debate team take a selfie at Starbucks in Mexico, Missouri at the War of the Words tournament. "The great thing about coaching debate is that you get to fight the power and drink coffee at the same time," Haug said. Photo by Robyn Haug.

2. Home Team Advantage: Cecilia Rogers (10), Maya Sabeh (10), Madhumathi Vijayalingam (12), and Meghan Haug (12) take huge W's on our home turf at GSL 2. "I initially joined debate because my mom was the coach, but I stuck with it for four years because I love it. The team we've made and the people we meet are all really great and it's an experience that you can't get with any other club or sport,"

5. Another year another success story. The debate team celebrates wiping the floor in events with minimal trophies damaged. "Debate has really helped boost my confidence and public speaking skills, as well as given me the opportunity to make friends with people who I probably wouldn't have had a chance to talk to before. I am really thankful to Mrs. Haug for being such a great coach and for even leading me to go to nationals, something I wouldn't have imagined before. I am working towards trying to make it to state or nationals again this year!" Madhumathi Vijayalingam (12) said. Photo by Robyn Haug

Novice Superstars: Sean Segasture (12), Henry Rutter (9), Hayden Bender (9), Keira Howard (9), Jonas Wall (9), and Hannah Joseph (10) competed as novices in one of their first tournaments, the novice invitational at Ladue.

2. ALLIES. Zoe Arrindell (9) and Caroline Bender (12) team up to fight the patriarchy in CSA. Photo by Robyn Hong.

3. GATHER TOGETHER. FCA meets up to pray around the flag pole. "My favorite thing about FCA is being able to share my love of God with my fellow students," said Troy Watson, a two time FCA member. Photo by Shannon Kuster.

4. FREEZING COLD. Maddy Callihan (11) and Contessa Smith (11) volunteer at the very cold Winter Wonderland lights at Tilles Park. "Winter Wonderland was a little cold this year but being able to spend it with Contessa made it much better," Callihan said. Photo by Ryan Brown.

5. WORK IT. Lindsey Trieu (12), Edris Roman (11), Zoe Krause (11), Alexis Stack-Cloud (11), and Madison Lawrence (11) help paint the back drop for the homecoming dance with fellow stuco members. "I like stuco because it helps me give a voice to people who don't necessarily feel comfortable talking about stuff or sharing their ideas and it also gives me a chance to represent the hispanic community in a high school organization," Roman said. Photo by Emily Marshall.

4. PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Scholar Bowl team meets up with Mrs. Musterman for an after-school practice to sharpen their skills.

5. WHO RUNS THE WORLD? The girls of FCA meet up for girl's weekend. "My favorite part of girl's weekend is bonding with all the girls who have a common interest. It's so great to make new friends," said Madison Lawrence (11). Photo courtesy of FCA Staff.

7. United. FCA members from schools all over STL meet up to pray together at Girl's Weekend of Champions. Photo courtesy of Girls Weekend Staff.

8. CHEESIN'. GSA members Zoe Arrindell (9), Levi Job (11), Hayden Bender (9) and Caroline Bender (12) come together to talk about important topics that affect LGBTQ+ in a safe environment. "I like being a part of GSA because I'd never felt like I belonged anywhere until I met people who were like me in an environment where we could be open with each other. We get to spend our time together just being ourselves, talking about our experiences as LGBT youths and talking about current events in the community," Caroline Bender said. Photo by Robyn Huang.

Pass the Plate

Taylor Babin, Seaside (12) and Courtney Evans (12) enjoy veggie sticks at a Squash Club event. "I like to go to events for the fun atmosphere, not necessarily the food," said Evans. That is the best.

Ughetto Babin, Seaside (12) and Kourtney Evans, Seaside (12) grab food for their Squash Club meeting. "I really like the atmosphere, especially when we have Christmas Day. We get to experience the culture and music and conversations," said Babin. That is the best.

J. CHIP SUPPLIER, Caroline Buckley (12) comes to school when she sees the team by bringing chips to the snack bar. "I love being the chip supplier. I love Squash Club, but especially EVER," said Buckley. That is the best.

K. HAPPY KID, Madison Cameron (11) is all smiles while she makes the perfect snack. That is the best.

COLOPHON

Volume 86 of The Eagle was created by the 2B journalism class of Brentwood High School under the guidance of Robyn Haug.

The yearbook staff selected the "Voices of Brentwood" theme for this yearbook due to the ever increasing need for all people's voices to be heard. Following with the theme of our book, we have elected to include a student soapbox section of the book allowing students to voice their opinions about school, society, or whatever they feel passionately about.

Similarly to 2017 and 2018, our book is published in the spring and features a 16-page supplement delivered in the summer. The book was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. The staff would like to thank Dan Mueller and Leah Blase for their unwavering support and dedication to our yearbook, providing expert advice and insight.

The fonts used in this book are the AHJ Bodoni font family. The teams and portrait photographer was Lifetouch and the senior portrait photographer was Prestige Photography.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes. The paper then moves on to discuss the challenges of conducting research in culturally diverse settings. It notes that researchers often face difficulties in establishing rapport with participants and in interpreting their responses. To address these challenges, the paper suggests several strategies, including the use of local informants and the development of culturally appropriate research instruments. The final part of the paper discusses the importance of ethical considerations in cross-cultural research. It emphasizes the need for researchers to obtain informed consent from participants and to ensure that their research does not cause harm to the communities they are studying.
